Remedy for Striped-Bug.

Having occasion to use Paris Green and calcined plaster, in the proportion of one of the former to fifteen of the latter, as a destroyer of the potato bug, I tried the stuff on squash, melon and cucumber vines; with me the same mixture dusted on from a common dredging box, has proved equally effectual against the Colorado Potato Beetle and the striped bug. On squashes of the tenderest variety of foliage, like the Hubbard, for instance, and on harder, like Cymlin and the Winter Crookneck, this mixture, whether put on while the plant is wet or dry, does not injure them; and so of muskmelons and cucumbers. The water melon, however, does not like to be so treated, but I would recommend that themixture be used with care.—Cor. Prairie Farmer.

How to Make a Toast.

A dish of good toast is a rarity and is an enjoyment. For breakfast few things surpass it to those who are accustomed to that dish at that meal. It is light, digestible and reliable, and is not very expensive. A cup of tea or coffee, with a baked Spitzbogen, or a dish of any other subacid in addition, will make a satisfactory meal to any reasonable man. In toasting bread the following rules should be observed— Warm your bread well, by changing the sides of the slice when heated through, brown as is desired. There should be rather little than much browning, and the slices should be quite thin, say a quarter or three-eights of an inch, no more. But do not scorch; avoid that in all cases. The philosophy in browning is to take your time until you are done. Where the toast accumulates keep in a hot dish, but use as soon as possible. What is desirable in toast is a rich color and flavor formed by changing the starch into dextrine or gum. Heat evaporates moisture in bread as well as elsewhere. The moisture that escapes from toast leaves the bread light, soft and porous inside.

The Spanish Revolution.

MADRID, Feb. 12.—The Cortes to-day elected the following government: Figueras for President of the Council, received 244 votes; Cordoba, Minister of War, 239; Pi-Y-Mallor, Minister of the interior, 243; Nicolas Salmeron, Minister of the Colonies, 238; Beranger, Minister of Marine, 246; Castellar, Minister of Foreign affairs, 245; Cecerra, Minister of Public Works, 233; Echogaray, Minister of Finances, 242.

The newly electors of the government took seats upon the ministerial bench,

Figueras then addressed the Assembly. He said he owed his appointment to political circumstance. He believed Orense would have been nominated had he been present. He promised that the Spanish people should in the future have the utmost freedom in the choice of their rulers and representatives. He then read numerous telegrams from the provinces showing that the public peace and order had been everywhere preserved. He hoped the republic would be established forever, and that Spain would henceforth exercise her just influence in the affairs of Europe. He believed that the other Latin nations would not be slow to imitate her example. The government now chosen would insure national integrity.

The assembly then adjourned.

A president of the Cortes will be elected to-morrow. The city is quiet to-night. The revolution will be celebrated by a grand illumination.

A sewing machine agent in Massachusetts recently got the better of a rival by circulating a report that the latter had the small pox.

Ex-Governor GEARY of Pennsylvania while at breakfast in the morning of the 8th, and in the act of helping his little son, fell dead, before his wife could get to his side. Heart disease was the cause.
